

5000 ARE DEAD IN FLOOD

Worst Disaster in Our Country's History Caused by Floods

The flood disasters of last night in Ohio and Indiana are probably the worst in the history of the country, worse than the Johnstown flood, worse than the loss of the Titanic. The loss of life is variously estimated at from 2500 to 5000, while probably 300,000 people are homeless and the property loss is simply incalculable. The places that suffered most were Dayton, Piqua, Delaware, Middletown, O. and Peru, Ind. An appeal for aid has been sent to the war department at Washington by Governor Cox of Ohio and tents and rations will be furnished.

The water in the streets of Dayton, O., was 40 feet deep. People sought safety on roofs from which they fell exhausted into the water.

HUNDREDS OF DEAD BODIES SEEN FLOATING IN THE WRECKAGE

CHICAGO, March 25.—Day broke on the desolation brought by floods throughout Ohio and Indiana with a slight hope that the estimates that the loss of life of the night before might be somewhat reduced when search revealed more fully the situation of the stricken cities. At daybreak only partly verified reports from the flood swept cities in the two states showed the following revised estimates of the loss of life, based upon an apparent reduction in the figures from Dayton according to refugees and upon a possible diminution in the reports from Peru, Ind.

Revised Estimates
Ohio—Dayton, 500 to 1000; Piqua, 450; Delaware, 30 to 100; Sydney, 23 to 30; Middletown, 50 to 100; Hamilton, 13; Tippencanoe City, 3 to 5; scattering, 15.

Indiana—Peru, 60 to 250; Newcastle, 3; Lafayette, 2; Noblesville, 2; Fort Wayne, 2; scattering, 22.
Death List Reduced

The first ray of comfort from Dayton came with the reports of refugees arriving at Xenia that the death list which had been estimated as high as 5000 drowned would range from 500 to 1000. A similar reduction in the number of victims was reported by telephone from Peru to South Bend, Ind., the earlier figures from 200 to 500 drowned dwindling to 60, although a report from Warsaw, Ind., still estimated that 250 persons had lost their lives.

In contrast to the slight hope held out of a possibly reduced list in the cities named, the possibility that other places not yet mentioned as having been visited by disaster had suffered was indicated in early reports.

Francis Appeals For Aid

Miamisburg, a town of 4,000, 12 miles below Dayton, was reported to have been washed away, but no news as to the casualties among the inhabitants had been received. At daybreak increased anxiety in Indiana centered about Brookville and Connersville, from which frantic appeals for aid were made last night just before wire communication failed. It was reported to the governor that the White river levee had given way, flooding the valley and sweeping hundreds of persons before it.

450 Dead at Piqua, O.

The early rumor of a death list of 450 at Piqua, O., was still uncontradicted at daylight, though no further confirmation of it had come to hand.

Throughout the night the most strenuous efforts at relief were being made. The governor of Ohio had ordered out the entire state militia to aid in the work of rescue in the various cities and official appeals for help were sent to neighboring states.

$250,000 For Relief Work

The first relief train today to Dayton sent from Xenia last night was expected back early today. Preparations were made by the state legislature at Columbus to appropriate $250,000 for the relief of the sufferers. The governor estimated the homeless in Ohio at 250,000.

Efforts also were being made to succor the victims at Peru and other Indiana cities. Supplies of every description for 5,000 persons were rushed to Peru from neighboring towns.

Exhausted Persons Drop Into Water

In every city and throughout the flood districts the fear at daybreak was that the death list had been increased during the night by the constant dropping of exhausted persons into the water. The utter inability of ordinary boats to reach people clinging to dismantled houses, trees and surrounding objects made the work of rescue everywhere practically impossible. There was hope, however, of a gradual subsidence of the flood which had reached its crest at Dayton at midnight and began slowly to fall. One pressing need at Dayton next to the rescue of imperiled persons was a supply of food, the stores being in the inundated district. The water supply for drinking purposes had also been cut off and physicians feared a possible typhoid epidemic from the use of the flood waters.

In both states the train service continued in a demoralized condition but every effort was made by the authorities to reach the districts most in need of help. Individuals and relief trains striving to reach Dayton were unable during the night to penetrate the city which remained utterly isolated save possibly from the north, where further efforts were made to enter at daybreak.

BREAK IN RIVER LEVER FLOODED VALLEY, SWEEPING HUNDREDS BEFORE IT

INDIANAPOLIS, March 26.—At break of day anxiety in Indiana centered in Brookville and Connersville, on the White river, from which frantic appeals for aid were received by Gov. Walton yesterday. While the appeal was being made wire communication to Connersville failed. The person who was talking with the governor said that a break in the White river levee had flooded the valley, sweeping hundreds of persons before it. Since then it has been impossible to re-establish communication over for a few minutes and the governor fears the worst has happened. The whole state is stupified by the magnitude of the disaster which in 24 hours drowned hundreds of persons and destroyed property valued at nearly $25,000,000.

Water Higher Than Ever

Indianapolis awoke to find the waters higher than ever before with a property loss that two days ago would have been unbelievable. It is hard even yet to bring the full realization of the damage to the people, who had no thought of a flood from streams that ordinarily are unimportant, adding only in heightening the city's parks and boulevards. During the night the water advanced upon the exclusive residence section along Fall creek. It tore away one bridge, destroyed the city's most pretentious driveway and forced the families living along its banks to desert their palatial homes.

A few hours before the residents were awakened by militiamen and ordered from the threatened buildings, only to find every road in the city full. They were cared for at the homes of friends.

BUILDINGS IN GREAT DANGER

Churches, School and Hospital Were Not Protected in Case of a Fire

Up to last night the Immaculate Conception church, the High street church, St. John's hospital and the Immaculate Conception school had inadequate fire protection and would have been at the mercy of the flames in case of fire. The water service at that point was very poor. The condition, however, has been remedied by installing two eight-inch hydrants connecting with the twenty-four inch main in East Merrimack street, the largest street main in the city. One of the new hydrants is in Brown street and the other in Fayette street. The Brown street hydrant was finished last night and the other will be completed within a day or two. Either one of the hydrants will stand three lines of hose and all the power that the city can muster. Commissioner Barrett said today that up to the present time the buildings in question did not have anything like safe fire protection. "I do not understand," he said, "how it came about that these buildings were so sorely neglected. The nearest hydrant was across Fayette street and there was another in Stockpole street. They are six-inch hydrants and are not properly located to take care of these buildings. The situation there in case of a big fire would have been very serious and it has caused me considerable worry. Now, so far as water is concerned, we are prepared to fight any kind of a fire or two. Either one of the hydrants

Several Non-Support Cases Were Aired—Man Found Guilty of Larceny of Pair of Shoes Fined $5

Alexander F. Edwards, chauffeur for Mr. Thomas Nesmith, who ran over and killed Edward Mullin with his employer's automobile on March 12, appeared in court this morning, but his case was again continued. April 4 was the date set by mutual agreement for Edwards' next appearance before Judge Enright. His bail remained the same as on his previous continuance, $2000. Henry Meare was in this morning's docket to answer to a charge of drunkenness and also to a complaint charging him with being an idle and disorderly person, and the case was continued.

Arthur Perreault was charged with neglect of his wife, and he was sent to jail for four months. City Solicitor Hennessy appeared for the prosecution and lawyer Wilson for the defendant. It developed that Stewart was the man that contracted with Mrs. Jane Kershaw for a plumbing job. The claim of the prosecution was that Stewart had no right to contract for this job because he is not a master plumber and the defense asserted that he was not a contractor but rather an employee of the firm of J. W. Stewart & Co. The permit to do the work was issued to Thomas J. Welsh by Inspector Garrity, but Welsh testified that he received a remuneration for the use of his name on the contract and license. After a half hour's argumentation and debate by both parties the court took the case under advisement for a later decision.

Geo. Pappas was charged with the larceny of a pair of shoes from the filling station. The case was continued for a later decision. The case of Andre Zharbarkel, charged with drunkenness, was continued until tomorrow for sentence.

OMAHA, Neb., March 26.—Burying the dead and work of reconstruction occupied the time of thousands of persons during the day. Funerals were held in all parts of the city. Many of the bodies recovered from wrecks of Sunday's storm were cared for at undertaking establishments and the greater number of the funerals were held from those places. In many instances churches were demolished in the districts covered by the storm and others were so badly wrecked as to prevent them being used. Nearly 100 funerals were held. During the night the work of rescue continued. The authorities are taking steps to uncover all of the wreckage at once in order to remove any bodies that may be buried. The real estate exchange has taken steps to prevent the raising of rents. Already cases of alleged extortion have been reported.

Work on another section at the corner of School street and Broadway will be begun tomorrow morning. The sixteen-inch main will run through Rock street, School street, Broadway and Wilder street to the corner of Princeton street, where it will tap the Cook well main.

The big new main will afford a better quality of water and will increase the force for fire service in the Highlands. It will improve the quality and increase the quantity. It will also add to fire protection en route.

But School Superintendent Cannot Fix Salary—Dental Clinic for All School Children

The board took up the matter of a dental clinic and voted to have it in charge of the school children in Lowell. The original motion was that it include the "public school children" and on motion of Mr. Farrington the motion was changed to include the children of private as well as public schools. President Lambert made a little speech in favor of the clinic being thrown open to the children of both public and private schools on the broad ground that it should be made to do the greatest good for the greatest number. The board also approved the reopening of a kindergarten in the Lincoln school and it was voted to have the superintendent confer with the principal of the Lincoln school and the principals of other schools in that district for the purpose of agreeing on a selection or not it would be advisable to reopen the kindergarten.

WILSON APPEALS TO NATION

Says Floods Have Assumed the Proportions of a National Calamity

WASHINGTON, March 26.—President Wilson today issued the following appeal to the nation to help the sufferers in the Ohio and Indiana floods.

"The terrible floods in Ohio and Indiana have assumed the proportions of a national calamity. The loss of life and the infinite suffering involved prompt me to issue an earnest appeal to all who are able in however small a way, to assist the labors of the American Red Cross to send contributions at once to the Red Cross at Washington or to the local treasurers of the society. We should make this a common cause. The needs of those upon whom this sudden and overwhelming disaster has come should quicken every one capable of sympathy and compassion to give immediate aid to those who are laboring towards their relief.

"Woodrow Wilson."

The president also sent the following telegram to both Gov. Ranssall at Indianapolis and Gov. Cox at Columbus, O.

"I deeply sympathize with the people of your state in the terrible disaster that has come upon them. Can the federal government assist in any way?"

Mrs. Mabel Boardman of the Red Cross promised to keep the president in touch with the situation.

THE EATON POISON CASE

PLYMOUTH, March 26.—Dr. Joseph Frame, who was the last man to talk with Rear Admiral Joseph Eaton before the latter died of poisoning, was heard today by the grand jury which is considering the evidence upon which the widow was charged with murder. Much importance is attached to the testimony of the family physician. He was called to the Eaton home to attend Mrs. Eaton's mother, Mrs. Geo. Harrison, on March 7, and while there learned of the admiral's illness and prescribed for him. The admiral died early the next day and when the fact was made known to Dr. Frame he took steps that prevented the immediate embalming of the body. What passed between the physician and the dying patient has been closely guarded, but in view of the fact that the authorities have not been able to trace to any one the purchase of the arsenic found in the admiral's stomach, it is generally believed that the state has other evidence furnished by Dr. Frame.

WANTS MORE HYDRANTS

Com. Barrett Says That 250 Are Needed

At a recent meeting of the municipal council Mr. Barrett said that he wanted to install about 25 new hydrants in the city this year. "We need over 200 new hydrants," said the commissioner today, "but our finances do not warrant the putting in of so many at one time. We ought to install at least 75 new hydrants this year."

Barrett, speaking of hose, said: "The best hose that can be purchased is none too good. Poor and cheap hose is a detriment to any fire department. Using the very best hose in the market, the hose with the smoothest inside finish, there is 14 pounds of pressure lost by friction in every 100 feet. With a poor hose the loss of pressure often runs as high as 24 and 25 pounds to 100 feet of hose, so that a 25-pound pressure at the end of 100 feet of poor hose would be lost. It would not show any pressure at all."

End Liver Trouble Without Calomel

Untrustworthy Drug, Thought to Loosen the Teeth, Now Made Absolutely Unnecessary

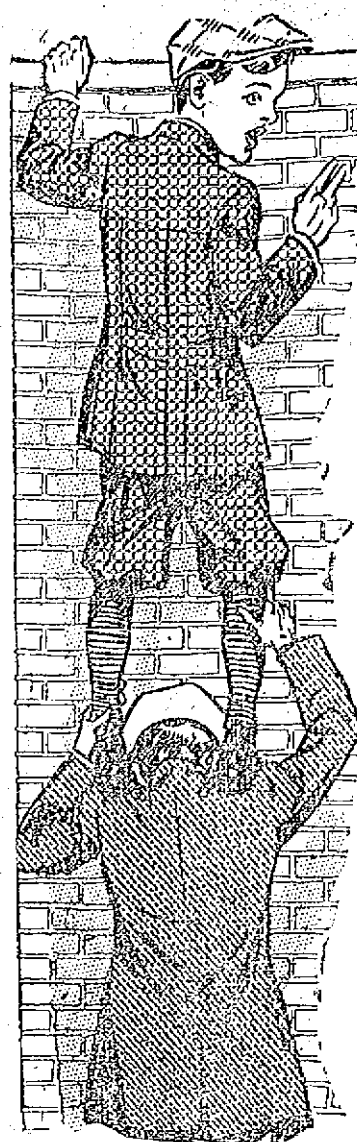

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are the mildest but surest laxative known, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. Dr. Edwards has been calomel's uncompromising foe. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-oil-coated tablets, a rare combination of vegetable compounds mixed with olive oil. These pleasant, harmless little tablets do all the good that calomel does but have no bad after-effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel at all, but to let Olive Tablets take their place.

Most headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" the cloudy brain and how they "perk up" the spirits.

At 30c and 25c a box. "Every little Olive Tablet has a movement all its own."

Officers of the Girls' Battalions of High School Entertained in Associate Hall

Associate hall was the scene last night of the 15th annual ball of the officers of the girls' battalions of the high school, and proved, as is always the case, to be one of the season's social features.

The hall was decked out as it has seldom been before and the lighting effect was particularly striking. The lights in the balconies were dimmed while the effect of the large center lights from the floor gave out was very soft and of a greenish tint. This was due largely to the Nile green trimmings with which the hall as well as the lights were draped.

The highly polished dancing surface,

the swish of evening gowned ladies and gentlemen, the rhythmic music and the background of potted ferns and palms all lent to the affair an unusually brilliant setting. From the opening strains of the grand march until the last bar of the final waltz had been played there was not a dull moment for any of those who attended the party. With the galleries filled with admiring friends of the officers who conducted the ball each dance in itself attained the prominence of a grand march.

Although the program announced 5 o'clock as the time when the grand march would start the dancing festivities. It was not until 8:30 that Miss Mary A. Sherburne entered the hall accompanied by Mr. Charles Whidden. Under the patronage of Miss Joyce, the teacher of the girls in their calisthenics, several very graceful figures were executed by the line of officers and others who took part in the march before the concert by Hibbard's orchestra was given. There were some 50 couples who took part in the grand march.

The officers of the evening were: General manager, Major Mary Sherburne; assistant general manager, Mrs. Katherine McManmon; floor director, Mr. Charles Whidden; assistant floor director, Capt. Laura Bellamy; chief aids, Capt. Mary Lawler, Capt. Alta Leary, Miss Captains Ella Barris, Ruth Chace, Greta Cady, Edna Barnes; Adjutantess Martina Pihl, Olga Lofgren, First Lieutenants Lillian Cogger, Catharine Atwood, Florence Shannahan, Marietta Fuller, Beatrice Jonsson, May Mansfield, Esther Owens, Ruth Scott, Second Lieutenants Ethel Barris, Mildred Leck, Agnes McHugh, Martina Pihl (acting), Irene Shea, Grace Grogan, Lena Smith, Ethel Lombard.

COLUMBUS, O., March 26.—Although first reports had put the loss of life at Dayton as high as 5000 refugees arriving in Xenia said it would be about 1000. The most serious news early today was that the town of Mansburg with a population of 4000 had been washed away.

MIDDLETOWN, O., March 26.—After a night of peril day broke with a cold, cloudy dawn and a hopeful feeling among the residents of the city. The river about 3 a. m. began to fall but the situation early today was still dangerous and unless prompt rescue work is done the toll of life may run into big figures.

DAYTON, O., March 26.—The unprecedented floods that have caused appalling loss of life and enormous property damage through Ohio and Indiana followed the wake of the destructive tornado that killed hundreds, wrecked buildings and caused levees, dams and reservoirs to break in that section of the country.

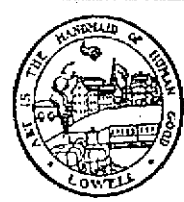

WASHINGTON, March 26.—Upon the rainfall of the next 35 hours depends whether the flood situation would be alleviated or grow worse. Over crippled wires fragmentary reports are creeping into weather bureau headquarters here today told of excessive rains all over the stricken districts threatening to carry the surging waters higher or maintain them at present stages.

DAYTON, O., March 26.—The crash of the Dayton flood passed about midnight but the next few hours saw no appreciable lowering in the water. Morning brought little hope of immediate relief to those who had spent the night in horror and it is feared that the number of drowned had been greatly increased during the 12 hours of darkness.

WOLF CREEK, O., March 26.—Two miles west of Dayton, O.—One thousand persons lost their lives in the Dayton flood, according to a report received by the Western Union Telegraph Co. which has established a sending station here.

Salves Can't Cure Eczema

In regard to skin diseases, medical authorities are now agreed on this: Don't imprison the disease germs in your skin by the use of greasy salves, and thus encourage them to multiply. A true cure of all skin diseases can be brought about only by using the healing agents in the form of a liquid.

WASH. THE GERMS OUT. A simple wash. A compound of Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol, and other ingredients as combined in the D. D. D.

Prescription. This penetrates to the disease germs and destroys them, then soothes and heals the skin as nothing else has ever done.

A salve can't cure eczema. It can't give you instant relief. We have made fast friends of more than one family by recommending this D. D. D. Prescription to a skin sufferer. It is now on our positive pay guarantee. D. D. D. Soap keeps the pores clean; ask us. A. W. Dows & Co.

MATRIMONIAL

A very pretty wedding took place this afternoon at St. John's church, North Chalmersford, when Mr. Philippe Napoleon Gaudette and Miss Grace Trudeau were united in the bonds of matrimony. The ceremony was performed at a nuptial mass celebrated at 8 o'clock by the pastor, Rev. Edmund Schofield. The bride was attended by her father, Mr. Louis Trudeau, while the bridegroom was led to the altar by his father, Mr. Joseph Gaudette. After the ceremony the bride and groom repaired to the home of the bride's parents in the village, where a dainty

PRESENTED GOLD HEADED CANE

Rev. D. N. Forget, O.M.I.,
Honored by C.M.A.C.
Members

HENRI ACHIN, JR.

Despite the inclement weather, the C. M. A. C. hall in Pawtucket street was last night the scene of one of the largest gatherings of members of this popular organization for years, the occasion being a reception to one of the former chaplains, Rev. D. N. Forget, O. M. I., who was also at the time pastor of St. Joseph's parish. Fr. Forget is now a missionary stationed at Cap de la Madeleine, Que., and has just completed preaching a two weeks' mission at Notre Dame de Lourdes church in Branch street.

The members of the C. M. A. C. who always had great love for the venerable clergyman, took occasion of renewing acquaintances with him and also to show him they have not as yet forgotten one who for years was their spiritual director and accordingly they invited him to attend their meeting of last night, at the close of which they presented him a handsome gold headed cane.

The clergyman, accompanied by the pastor of Notre Dame de Lourdes church, Rev. Leon Lamotte, O. M. I., arrived at the hall in the early part of the evening and was immediately escorted to the reception hall, where he was greeted by hundreds of members of the association, who gave him the glad hand-shake. Among those who were members of the club 17 years ago, very few were not recognized by the visitor, who expressed great satisfaction for being once more with the "boys." After each individual had been presented to the guest of the evening, all repaired to the assembly hall, where an entertainment program was provided for. Interesting musical numbers were gone through and finally, the presiding officer, Henri Achin, Jr., presented the Oblate father, a handsome gold headed cane as a token of remembrance of the high esteem and affection in which he is held by the C. M. A. C. members.

Although taken wholly unaware, Fr. Forget, who is an eloquent speaker, responded in a very fitting manner and told how he constantly had kept in kind remembrance his former parishioners of this city, especially the members of the C. M. A. C. He assured his listeners that although being miles away from them his heart and mind were always with them. He congratulated the association over its progress for the last 17 years and closed by wishing the association and its members long life and prosperity. There were also speeches by Rev. Leon Lamotte, O. M. I., Rev. Guillaume Ouellette, O. M. I., chaplain of the association, who recalled the time when Fr. Forget was chaplain of the organization, and he (Fr. Ouellette) was one of its members. He also noted the progress of the society since that time and addressed flattering remarks to the officers of the society, Emory Cognac, Joseph Prevost, Henri Barry, René Dalgé, Thomas J. Goyette and others also addressed the gathering.

A letter of regret from Elzear H. Choquette, a former president of this city and member of the association, and now one of the prominent business men of New Bedford, and president of the board of trade of the latter place, was read and received with applause.

A handsome bouquet, donated by Mr. Charles Knapp and family, was presented to Fr. Forget by Thomas J. Goyette, who in appropriate words expressed the feelings of the Knapp family, who have always been close friends to the missionary and said the flowers were accompanied with the best wishes of the donors.

The returned gentleman accepted the gift with many thanks to Mr. Knapp and family for whom he always had much love and respect, and he expressed his desire to again meet his friends before his leaving Lowell.

The committee in charge of the reception was composed of the following:

Napoleon Lozeau, chairman; Joseph Payette, secretary; Eugene Savard, Joseph L. Lamoureux, Henri Barry and Arthur J. Lussier, ex-officio.

The reception committee was as follows:

Thos. J. Goyette, William Drapeau, Edmond Gill, Edmond Trepanier, Joseph Choquette, Emory Cognac, Dr. J. E. Lamoureux, Joseph A. Legare, Albert Blazon, Dr. G. O. Lavalley, H. Choquette, Dr. D. S. Bellefleur, Henri Dalgé, Adolphe Brassard, Victor Sabols, Henri Achin, Sr., Henri Achin, Jr., Dr. Geo. E. Caisso, Horace Deslites, Albert Bergeron, Homer J. Goyette, Xavier Dalgé, Joseph Richard, Elzear H. Choquette, Amédée Archambault, Joseph Albert, Napoleon Bloudeau, George Dion, Emory Lanoue, Thos. Caron, Adolphe Bouchard, Edmond Matte and Joseph E. Lambert.

BOSTON, March 26.—Wilfred G. James, 17 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. James of 12 Dane street, Somerville, was reported to the Somerville police yesterday as missing.

He was employed as a messenger boy in the mail office of the Western Union in Boston, and was last seen when he collected $4.50 due him March 12. He left home at 7 o'clock that morning, telling his mother that he was going to work. He was seen at 4 o'clock that afternoon at the office of the company by his brother, Herbert A., and the latter was told that he would be home soon.

He is described as 5 feet 4 inches tall, stoutly built, with light brown hair, gray eyes and light complexion. When last seen he had on a dark gray overcoat, a brown cap and black shoes and stockings.

Baldwin Defeated Kennedy
MANCHESTER, N. H., March 26.—Mr. Baldwin of Boston won the decision over Steve Kennedy of Lawrence and the championship of New England after 12 rounds of fast boxing before more than 1500 fans in the Mechanics hall arena last night. It was Baldwin's bout from start to finish, the much heralded cleverness of Kennedy palling to a shadow before the superior ring generalship and aggressiveness of the stocky Boston boy.

MURDERED IN HIS BED

Raphael Ligoris Killed After Struggle

WORCESTER, March 26.—Raphael Ligoris, an Albanian workman employed nights in the south works of the American Steel and Wire company, was murdered in his bed at his boarding house, 176 Southbridge street, yesterday afternoon. Six stab wounds about the head, breast and neck, one of which severed the left jugular, caused death.

Blood spattered walls told the story of a struggle, as if the victim awoke after the first blow. As he fought his murderer, Ligoris had grasped the knife which was being used against him. His right hand was horribly cut. The second finger was severed and the little finger was hanging by a shred and the palm was cut from side to side.

The body was discovered by Nicholas Janas, Ligoris' roommate, just after 5 p. m., but rigor-mortis was already far advanced, and it was evident the man had been dead several hours. He was last seen alive at 12:30 p. m., when he was found asleep.

After the murder the assassin ransacked the flat in which Ligoris lived with others of his race, but so far as had been determined last night nothing was taken. That robbery was not the motive is the belief of the police, and every effort is being made to locate a man with whom Ligoris is said to have had trouble about a month ago.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

Opera House

Despite the bad weather a good-sized audience was present at the Opera House last night and enjoyed the presentation of Mrs. Leslie Carter's famous play, "Zaza" as presented by the Loneragan Players.

In the short while that Miss Irene Timmons has been in Lowell she has made many friends among local theatre-goers and her performance of the title role this week stamps her as one of the cleverest leading ladies ever seen in this vicinity. A feature of the performances this week, particularly to the feminine attendants at the matinees, is the beautiful gowns worn by Miss Timmons. William Grew is doing some of the best work of the week that he has done since his first appearance here, notwithstanding that his performances have been of a high order.

One of the most popular members of the Loneragan Players is Mr. Robert Allen, who is making a decided hit in the role of Casart this week.

THE COUNTRY BOY

Every mother with a growing boy should send him to see "The Country Boy," the comedy by Edgar Selwyn, which Henry B. Harris will present at the Opera House April 18. The reason for this lies in the fact that Mr. Selwyn teaches in his play, even through a great amount of laughter, the importance of self-reliance as a necessary adjunct to the success of life. It shows that opportunity lies no less in the small town, and to a great degree more surely in the small community than in the big city, where the competition is so keen that only the very strongest survive its grinding tests.

Merrimack Square Theatre
Success is the word which must be applied to the talking moving pictures at the Merrimack Square theatre this week. They are surrounded by an all-star vaudeville program which is interesting from start to finish. The talking pictures have given entire satisfaction to every one. "Couldn't possibly be better" is the verdict of all patrons.

Among the vaudeville offerings are Madelon and Goldie, the harpist and the singer; Grace Young and players, in "The One Woman"; Curtis and Colby, the cycling wonders; Ethel Munroe, society entertainer, and Violette and Old in the mystic novelty, "Isis." The photo-plays as usual hold many new and interesting features. Performances are continuous—no advance in prices. Next week the Temple Players, the talking pictures and other features.

The Playhouse

Of the many things of merit in this week's presentation of "Chauncey O'Colts" drama, "The Minister of Grace," by the Drama Players at the Playhouse, none is deserving of special recognition more than Mr. J. Anthony Smythe, in the character of "The Minister of Grace." As the young Irish lad who is over on the alert to help others, and who finds time to fall deeply in love with one "Nellie Cragen," what he finally becomes is especially pleasing. His singing is a pleasant surprise to his most ardent admirers. Miss Maan, Miss Tittle, and the others of the cast are most acceptable. Mr. Weston has staged the piece very cleverly. Performances afternoon and evening during the remainder of the week. Order your tickets in advance. Telephone 511.

B. F. Keith's Theatre

Many persons, who are in close touch with mechanical inventions, call the Thomas A. Edison Talking Motion pictures, now being shown at the Keith theatre, the eighth wonder of the world. Without attempting to place just what wonder they constitute, it will readily be admitted that they are really wonderful. Such synchronism of sound and movement has never before been attained. The two Edison inventions, the motion pictures and the phonograph, are linked together in his latest creation, "Train 44," a sterling melodramatic feature, appears on the bill, and the dancing ensembles of the Three Stewart Sisters and their very classy escorts, will make a very strong appeal to those who love grace and color. John Geiger, the man who makes the violin talk, makes himself a solid favorite from the start, and Joe Schreiner & Doll Richards in bits of nonsense know what audiences like. The De Voe trio of Roman ring artists and the singing of Pearl Dawson, pretty ingenue, make good features. "The Burglars' Union," the act of Thompson, Williams and Conneland is a sidesplitter all the way through. Good seats may be obtained in advance for all performances. The box office telephone number is 23.

Hoffmann Quartet Coming

Few people understand the tremendous task that public performers, especially such as the Hoffmann quartet has to contend with. In the first place they have so established their reputation before critics of all kinds that to fall from the standard that has been accredited them would be a severe blow. The Hoffmann quartet is an exception inasmuch as both the press and public demand such severe tests upon such performers that few can survive. The honorable position of musical critic of different daily papers and magazines demands of them not alone a thorough knowledge of music, but a proper and intelligent analysis of such works that are performed; thereby giving the public a true and honest description of such that will merit its reward and justify their position.

In the Hoffmann quartet such criticism as will be found below is not to delude the public but to show what they are: Vix. "In securing this famous quartet the Knights of Columbus have gone to quite an expense, but feel that the public of Lowell appreciating such form of music will flock to hear them, knowing the great amount of good that can be derived. In the selection of prices, they are within the reach of everyone." Those wishing reserved seats in advance will do well by leaving their names with the secretary of the Knights of Columbus at same will be secured three days in advance at Hall & Lyon's.

At Harmony Hall

On Thursday evening one of the most promising events ever given at Harmony hall will take place. The older men have arranged for an old time party. Mr. Peter Cavanaugh, the oldest citizen of Dora and for 52 years a resident of Collinsville, has been chosen honorary president. General manager John J. Kiernan; assistant, James Costello; floor marshal, Patrick Meade; assistant, John McShea.

REPAIRING OF ANDOVER STREET

County Will Not Share Expense Within City Limits—The City Must Foot Bills

City Engineer Kearney has taken up the matter of repairing a portion of Andover street within the city limits with the Middlesex county commission and has learned that while the county commission will not share the expense of a county road within the city limits, Andover street is a county road, the city has the right to do the repairs and the fact that the county commission has jurisdiction over Andover street does not benefit the city of Lowell. If the city should decide that it is necessary to widen or alter Andover street it would be necessary, Mr. Kearney says, to give the county commissioners thirty days' notice and they would have the authority to say "yes" or "no" to the proposition.

Appeal for Aid Answered
WASHINGTON, March 25.—The following telegram came from Gov. Cox of Ohio to the president:
"We have asked the secretary of war this morning for tents, supplies, rations and physicians. In the name of humanity see that this is granted at the earliest possible moment. The situation in this state is very critical. We believe that 250,000 people were unsheltered last night and the indications are that before night the Muskegon valley will suffer the fate of the Miami and Scioto valleys. The president replied as follows: "I have directed the secretary of war immediately to comply with your request and to use every agency of his department to meet the needs of the situation."

HOMELESS FLOCK TO CITY HALL FOR RELIEF

2900 Dead; 1,000,000 Homeless

The flood disasters of last night in Ohio and Indiana are probably the worst in the history of the country, worse than the Johnstown flood, worse than the loss of the Titanic. The loss of life is variously estimated at from 2500 to 3000, while about 1,000,000 people are homeless and the property loss is $25,000,000. The places that suffered most were Dayton, Piqua, Delaware, Middletown, O. and Peru, Ind. An appeal for aid has been sent to the war department at Washington by Governor Cox of Ohio and tents and rations will be furnished.

The water in the streets of Dayton, O., was 40 feet deep. People sought safety on roofs from which they fell exhausted into the water.

At Dayton alone it is reported 2000 are dead, while the river is four miles wide.

2000 DEAD IN DAYTON—$10,000,000

PROPERTY DAMAGE—RIVER

4 MILES WIDE

COLUMBUS, O., March 26.—Gov. Cox at 1:30 p. m. received the following telegram from Mr. Burba, his secretary, who went to Dayton last night:

"Deaths may run as high as 2000. Property loss $10,000,000. River four miles wide. Cannot get anywhere near the center of the city. Water up to second story of Phillips house. Worst calamity in the country since Galveston."

HUNDREDS OF DEAD BODIES SEEN FLOATING IN THE WRECKAGE.

CHICAGO, March 26.—Day broke on the desolation brought by floods throughout Ohio and Indiana with a slight hope that the estimates that the loss of life of the night before might be somewhat reduced when search revealed more fully the situation of the stricken cities. At daylight only partly verified reports from the flood swept cities in the two states showed the following revised estimates of the loss of life, based upon an apparent reduction in the figures from Dayton according to references and upon a possible diminution in the reports from Peru, Ind.

Revised Estimates.

Ohio—Dayton, 500 to 1000; Piqua, 450; Delaware, 50 to 100; Hamilton, 12; Tippencan City, 3 to 5; scattering, 16.

Indiana—Peru, 60 to 250; Newcastle, 2; Lafayette, 2; Noblesville, 2; Fort Wayne, 2; scattering, 20.

Death List Reduced

The first ray of comfort from Dayton came with the reports of refugees arriving at Xenia that the death list which had been estimated as high as 5,000 drowned would range from 500 to 1000. A similar reduction in the number of victims was reported by telephone from Peru to South Bend, Ind., the earlier figures from 200 to 500 drowned dwindling to 50, although a report from Warsaw, Ind., still estimated that 250 persons had lost their lives.

In contrast to the slight hope held out of a possibly reduced list in the cities named, the possibility that other places not yet mentioned as having been visited by disaster had suffered was indicated in early reports.

Frantic Appeals For Aid

Miamishire, a town of 4,000, 12 miles below Dayton, was reported to have been washed away, but no news as to the casualties among the inhabitants had been received. At daylight increased anxiety in Indiana centered about Brookville and Connersville, from which frantic appeals for aid were made last night just before the communication failed. It was reported to the governor that the White river levee had given way, flooding the valley and sweeping hundreds of persons before it.

450 Dead at Piqua, O.

The early rumor of a death list of 450 at Piqua, O., was still uncontradicted at daylight, though no further confirmation of it had come to hand.

Throughout the night the most strenuous efforts at relief were being made. The governor of Ohio had ordered out the entire state militia to aid in the work of rescue in the various cities and official appeals for help were sent to neighboring states.

$250,000 For Relief Work

The first relief train today to Dayton sent from Xenia last night was expected back early today. Preparations were made by the state legislature at Columbus to appropriate $250,000 for the relief of the sufferers. The governor estimated the homeless in Ohio at 250,000.

Efforts also were being made to succor the victims at Peru and other Indiana cities. Supplies of every description for 5,000 persons were rushed to Peru from neighboring towns.

Exhausted Persons Drop Into Water

In every city and throughout the flood districts the fear at daybreak was that the death list had been increased during the night by the constant dropping of exhausted persons into the water. The utter inability of ordinary boats to reach people clinging to dismantled houses, trees and surrounding objects made the work of rescue everywhere practically impossible. There was hope, however, of a gradual subsidence of the flood which had reached its crest at Dayton at midnight and began slowly to fall. One pressing need at Dayton next to the rescue of imperiled persons was a supply of food, the stores being in the inundated district. The water supply for drinking purposes had also been cut off and physicians feared a possible typhoid epidemic from the use of the flood water.

In both states the train service continued in a demoralized condition but every effort was made by the authorities to reach the districts most in need of help. Individuals and relief trains striving to reach Dayton were unable during the night to penetrate the city.

BREAK IN RIVER LEVEE FLOODED VALLEY, SWEEPING HUNDREDS BEFORE IT

INDIANAPOLIS, March 26.—At break of day anxiety in Indiana centered in the White river, from which frantic appeals for aid were received by Gov. Hanlon, yesterday. While the appeal was being made, wire communication to Connersville failed. The person who was talking with the governor said that a break in the White river levee had flooded the valley, sweeping hundreds of persons before it. Since then it has been impossible to re-establish communication even for a few minutes and the governor fears the worst has happened. The whole state is stupefied by the magnitude of the disaster, which in 24 hours drowned hundreds of persons and destroyed property valued at nearly $25,000,000.

Water Higher Than Ever

Indianapolis awoke to find the waters higher than ever before with a property loss that two days ago would have been unbelievable. It is hard even yet to bring the full realization of the damage to the people, who had no thought of a flood from streams that ordinarily are unimportant, adding only in beautifying the city's parks and boulevards. During the night the water advanced upon the exclusive residence section along Fall creek. It tore away one bridge, destroyed the city's most pretentious driveway and forced the families living along its banks to desert their palatial homes.

A few hours before the residents were awakened by milldramen and ordered from the threatened buildings, only to find every hotel in the city full. They were cared for at the homes of friends.

CLEVER CAPTURE MADE

Thief Who Was Selling Alarm Clocks

ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF STEALING SUIT

Alfred St. Denis, Formerly a Lowell Resident, Has Been Absent For Some Time

A clever capture was effected by the local police today when they hauled into custody Alfred St. Denis, formerly a Lowell resident and late of climes unknown. St. Denis was in the Greek district this morning trying to sell some alarm clocks and some of the people there becoming suspicious, notified Special Officer James Thomas, who sent the man to the station, clocks and all.

Now it happened that yesterday there was a theft of a suit of clothes from a house, 118 Lewis street, from John Stenradia, the occupant, the thief gaining entrance through an unlocked door, Inspector Walsh was sent out upon the case and located the suit in a local pawnshop in Middlesex street. The description by the proprietor of the man who sold him the clothes corresponded to that of the alarm clock man at the station and Inspector Walsh got the proprietor of the shop to go to the station and see him. He identified him as the man who had stolen the clothes. Prisoner later admitted the theft of both suit and clocks saying that he had taken the latter from somewhere in the vicinity of Suffolk street but did not know just where.

WORK FOR SMOKE INSPECTOR

New Man in Office is Very Busy—Many Complaints Received by the Mayor

The new smoke inspector, Charles Riley, is working longer hours than any man at city hall. Mr. Riley has always been of the belief that the position of smoke inspector is an important one and that there was much work for the smoke inspector to attend to. He said today that his experience thus far has not changed his mind in the least and, in fact, he is now more firmly convinced than ever that the smoke in this city can keep one man pretty busy.

Mayor O'Donnell is very much pleased with the way that Mr. Riley has taken hold of the work connected with the office of smoke inspector. Mr. Riley's reports, thus far, have been very complete and he is meeting with the hearty cooperation of manufacturers and others.

He told Mayor O'Donnell today that he has found a number of places that will have to improve conditions and they are all willing, he says, to meet the smoke inspector half way.

The mayor has received a number of complaints about the smoke and dirt from chimneys near the corner of Fletcher and Fulton streets. There is at least one manufacturing establishment in that vicinity where shavings are used for fuel and the smoke and cinders from this particular place constitutes a bona fide nuisance. Mr. Riley interviewed the owners of the manufacturing establishment in question and they have promised to correct the nuisance at once. Mr. Riley wants it thoroughly understood, too, that mere promises do not go with him. He says he is willing to give anybody reasonable time to improve conditions but that by "reasonable time" he does not mean six months or a year.

The mayor has also received complaints about the great volumes of smoke emitted by locomotives while standing at the Middlesex street depot and he has talked the matter over with Mr. Riley. It has been suggested that a great deal of the smoke is caused by the firemen coaling up while the train is at the station. Mr. Riley's predecessor in office, Mr. Hollowood, took this matter up with the Boston & Maine last year and in reporting upon this phase of the smoke nuisance in his 1912 report, said he felt called upon to express his highest appreciation, "for the prompt, efficient and generous spirit of cooperation, shown by the Boston & Maine R. R. officials."

The fact remains, however, that the trains while standing at the station, continue to envelop the depot and Middlesex street in smoke.

BUILDINGS IN GREAT DANGER

Churches, School and Hospital—Were Not Protected in Case of a Fire

Up to last night the immaculate Conception church, the High street church, St. John's hospital and the Immaculate Conception school had inadequate fire protection and would have been at the mercy of the flames in case of fire. The water service at that point was very poor. The condition, however, has been remedied by installing two eight-inch hydrants connecting with the twenty-four inch main in East Merrimack street, the largest street main in the city. One of the new hydrants is in Brown street and the other in Fayette street. The Brown street hydrant was finished last night and the other will be completed within a day or two. Either one of the hydrants will stand three lines of hose and all pay for the last night's disaster.

Commissioner Barker told that up to the present time the buildings in question did not have anything like safe fire protection. "I do not understand," he said, "how it came about that these buildings were so sorely neglected. The nearest hydrant was across Fayette street and there was another in State-street street. They are six-inch hydrants and are not properly located to take care of these buildings. The situation there in case of a big fire would have been very serious and it has caused me considerable worry. Now, so far as water is concerned, we are prepared to fight any kind of a fire at that point."

WANT CHILDREN PROTECTED

Brockton School Board Asks Policemen Be Detailed to Buildings at Closing Times

BROCKTON, March 25.—The school board last evening discussed the matter of better protection for children leaving school buildings, and unanimously voted to ask Mayor Hick to provide a policeman for each school at closing time. The action was taken as a result of a number of accidents from automobiles and motorcycles.

The teachers' committee was instructed to consider the feasibility of terminating, at the end of the term, the services of S. Henry Bailey at Somerset, as instructor of music at the High school, who came here in 1906.

SEVERED HAND MUMMIFIED

Strange Exhibition of Human Magnetic Currents at Congress of Experimental Psychology in Paris

PARIS, March 26.—A severed hand, mummified simply by the application of human magnetic currents without chemicals, was shown yesterday at the congress of experimental psychology. The hand was cut from a body in the public morgue and was subjected daily for 35 days to magnetic inductions emanating from Dr. Georges Durville, the secretary of the congress. Muz. Reinach and M. Fleury.

The hand was examined and touched by various psychologists. It appeared much like the hand of an Egyptian mummy. It lost three-eighths of its weight by evaporation during the process.

Dr. Durville explained to the congress that the result was wrought by vital currents from the operators, and suggested that similar processes might have been used in ancient Egypt.

Among the curious apparatus exhibited at the congress was one invented by Dr. Favier to measure psychic forces. Another was a "suggestion meter" to measure the capacities of persons to replace objects without touching them.

MAKES TEMPORARY APPOINTMENTS

But School Superintendent Cannot Fix Salary—Dental Clinic for All School Children

The right of the superintendent of schools to name salary when appointing teachers, temporarily, was discussed at a meeting of the school board last night and Committee on Finance, chairman of the committee on finance, said that the superintendent had no right to fix the salary of any teacher engaged by him. He said that under the rules the superintendent had no right to engage teachers temporarily but did not have the right to fix their salary.

The question came upon the temporary appointment, by Supt. Molloy, of Mr. Peter Guilston of Boston to fill the vacancy in the manual training department of the high school, caused by the promotion of Mr. Stone to the position of principal when Mr. Fisher was elected principal of the industrial school. Mr. Molloy, in engaging Mr. Guilston, told him that he would receive $100 a month.

Mr. Farrington was opposed, in the first place, to the school committee going out of town for a man to succeed Mr. Fisher and said if the school committee could not find a man capable of teaching in the school from which they graduated there must be something wrong with the system. Mr. Farrington's real and strongest objection came on the question of salary. He wanted the salary fixed at $50 a year, the same as is received by other male teachers in the school. He said it was worse for him to learn that the superintendent had fixed Mr. Guilston's salary at $100 a month. He said the superintendent had no right to do it and read from the rules to back up his statement. He said that the salary question should be referred to the committee on finance and as chairman of that committee he had not heard about the salary in question. Mr. Farrington was very earnest in the matter.

The board took up the matter of a dental clinic and voted to have it include all of the school children in Lowell. The original motion was that it include the public school children and on motion of Mr. Farrington the motion was changed to include the children of private schools as well as public schools. President Lambert made a little speech in favor of the clinic being thrown open to the children of both public and private schools on the broad ground that it should be made to do the greatest good for the greatest number. The board also discussed the re-opening of a kindergarten in the Lincoln school and it was voted to have the superintendent enter with the principal of the Lincoln school and the principals of other schools in that district for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not it would be advisable to re-open the kindergarten.

Mr. Farrington Gets Gavel

It was the regular March meeting of the board and all members were present. There was a little "extra class" to the meeting. Committee on Finance, Mr. Thompson and Supt. Molloy were in evening attire, not ready for bed, but all dressed up and ready for the annual ball by the officers of the Lowell high school. President Lambert looked quite charming. Messrs. Lambert, Bagley, Campbell and Farrington, wore their everyday clothes and if they were the least bit jealous of the Broadway appearance of Messrs. Thompson and Molloy they succeeded in concealing it.

Before the opening of business, the president, Mr. Lambert, presented to Mr. Farrington, the ex-president, the gavel used by him last year. This was in accord with the vote taken at the last meeting of the board of 1912. The gavel is inscribed as follows: "Presented to John C. Farrington by the school committee of Lowell in recognition of his services as chairman during the year 1912."

Report of Committee on Finance

For the committee on finance, Mr. Farrington reported adversely on the request of Carl D. Buritt that he be granted full pay for the time that he was in quarantine. Mr. Farrington explained that it was the law that the Commonwealth shall not receive more than $2 a day during their time in quarantine. "The teachers have accepted this rule," said Mr. Farrington, "and I think it would not be ad-

ERUPTION ON BABY'S BODY AND FACE

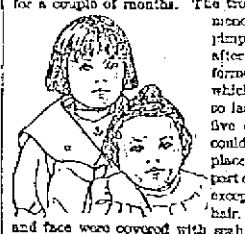

Pimples Formed Scabs. Itching So Great Child Not Sleep. Had to Tie His Hands. Completely Cured by Cuticura Soap and Ointment.

69 Walnut St., Northampton, Mass.—"My baby was afflicted with a skin disease for a couple of months. The trouble consisted of eruptions on his face and body, which, after breaking, formed scabs which became so large that a five cent piece could not be placed on any part of his body except in his hair. His body and face were covered with scabs, and the itching was so great that the baby could not get any sleep either day or night. He had such a fever that he could hardly eat, and we had to tie up his hands because he scratched continually. After washing the child morning and evening with Cuticura Soap and applying the Cuticura Ointment for about three weeks he was completely cured."

"My little boy, two years old, was playing near the stove and put his hand inadvertently on the stove, which was almost red. It made a wound the size of a 25c piece. As soon as my wife thought of the excellent Cuticura Ointment and after an application of it the child no longer felt the effects of the burn." (Signed) F. C. Langlois, May 11, 1912.

Cuticura Soap 25c, and Cuticura Ointment 10c, are sold everywhere. Liberal sample of each mailed free with 25c in 60s. Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

47 Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

care for as many of the children as possible." The report, as amended, was adopted, the clinic to be ready at the end of the April vacation, if possible.

Bids For Printing

The estimates on bids for printing were approved, as follows: the directory, Butterfield Printing company, $125.00; robes, Butterfield Printing company, $100.00; school report, F. A. M. Tobin, $2.00 a page. It is claimed that $22 has been saved over last year, through competitive bidding.

Recommendation of the committee on teachers, through Dr. Lambert, Miss Mary C. Fleming, who stood fifth on the list of teachers in the examination of 1911, and has been teaching outside of Lowell for two years, was placed in 25th place on the list of permanent substitutes of 1912.

Miss Wing Resigns

The resignation of Miss Mary E. Wing of the Varnum school, was accepted, with a vote of thanks for faithful and efficient service. Also, the resignation of Miss Ethel W. Whitcomb as a teacher in the Lowell High school. Miss Whitcomb was on leave of absence in the Philippines, and does not expect to return as soon as she had anticipated when her leave was extended.

Books and Kindergarten

The request of Mr. Bixby, principal of the Bartlett school, for books for special use in that school, and not on the approved list, was presented by the superintendent, with his recommendation that it be granted. Messrs. Campbell and Farrington did not approve the practice of going outside the approved list for books, and after discussion it was voted to defer to another meeting. Messrs. Thompson and Lambert voting no.

A communication was presented from Bennett Silverblatt, Esq., asking in behalf of the parents in the vicinity of the Lincoln school, that the kindergarten in that school, discontinued by last year's board, be reopened.

Dr. Bagley moved, and Mr. Farrington seconded, that action be deferred until the next meeting. Dr. Bagley said the committee of 1912 did not abolish the kindergarten without suitable reason. The motion to defer action was lost, three to two.

Mr. Campbell then moved that the superintendent of schools and the sub-committee of the Lincoln school, be instructed with Mr. Melton, and principals of other schools in that district, to ascertain whether there is room for a kindergarten there, and the advisability of reestablishing one; the committee to report at the next meeting. It was so voted.

An Employment Bureau

A communication from John Jacob Rogers, member of the school committee of 1912, was read, calling attention to the vote passed in 1912, whereby a committee was appointed to establish an employment bureau for pupils of the evening high school. Mr. Rogers urged immediate action. Mr. Campbell moved that the superintendent be requested to call a meeting of that committee at his earliest opportunity, and it was so voted.

Free Swimming Lessons

A communication from Dr. Yarnell, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A., asking the cooperation of the committee in giving free swimming lessons to school boys who have reached the age of 11 years, was read, and the proposition was unanimously accepted. The association proposes to hire a man, instructor for a series of lessons in April and to give the lessons free of charge.

Boston Man's Appointment

Supt. Molloy reported the temporary appointment of Mr. Peter Guilston of Boston to fill the vacancy in the manual training department of the high school, caused by the promotion of Mr. Stone to the position of principal when Mr. Fisher was elected superintendent of the industrial school.

Mr. Farrington inquired if there were any applications from Lowell men.

Mr. Thompson said there was one, and two other applications from out of town.

Mr. Farrington wanted to know more about the credentials of Mr. Guilston, and the superintendent said he was recommended by the principal of the school in which he had taught and also by his employer, for whom he worked as pattern maker. He is 31 years old, married, and has children.

Mr. Farrington did not see how he could conscientiously vote to approve the appointment, inasmuch as he is opposed to going out of the city for teachers. He wanted to register his protest against the appointment of a graduate of the department of the Lowell High school, who finished his education in Newburgh academy.

Mr. Thompson said it was the opinion of the superintendent, of Principal Fisher and of Mr. Stone that Mr. Guilston was the only man available, who could jump into the place in the middle of the term, and do satisfactory work. There were certain portions of the book that Mr. Campbell was not qualified to do.

Mr. Campbell agreed with Mr. Farrington that if our own graduates are not competent to teach, there must be something wrong with the system. He said that Mr. Guilston was a classmate of his, but no relative whatever.

Mr. Thompson said that we do turn out boys that are capable of teaching, but that they are employed at higher salaries than Lowell men.

On the motion to confirm the appointment, all voted except Messrs. Thompson and Lambert.

Mr. Molloy made another statement as to his reasons for making the temporary appointment. He said that every effort had been made to secure the best man available, and preferably a Lowell man, but he agreed with Mr. Thompson's statement that the other candidate was not the man to whom in at this stage and carry on the work.

Having heard this full statement, Mr. Campbell moved immediate reconsideration of the vote on the question of confirming the appointment of Mr. Guilston.

On reconsideration, the appointment was confirmed, three to two. Messrs. Bagley and Farrington voting no.

Question of Salary

Mr. Farrington moved that the salary of Mr. Guilston be fixed at the same rate as men to teach in the manual training department.

Mr. Thompson said he was proposing a salary of $100 a month.

Mr. Farrington said he was proposing a salary of $100 a month, which committee has charge of salaries of employees, and he was not competent to fix the salary of a teacher.

Both Dr. Lambert and Mr. Thompson were sure that Mr. Farrington was mistaken. Mr. Molloy called attention to the language of his report, which was to the effect that he had engaged Mr. Guilston at a salary of $100 a month, the lowest at which a competent teacher could be procured for that department. When the committee recommended that appointment, and Mr. Molloy, they fixed the salary.

It was finally voted to pay for the salary of Mr. Guilston's salary to the committee on finance.

Mr. Bagley took up the matter of the introduction of Irish history in the high school, it having been voted

WILSON APPEALS TO NATION

Says Floods Have Assumed the Proportions of a National Calamity

WASHINGTON, March 26.—President Wilson today issued the following appeal to the nation to help the sufferers in the Ohio and Indiana floods.

"The terrible floods in Ohio and Indiana have assumed the proportions of a national calamity. The loss of life and the infinite suffering involved prompt me to issue an earnest appeal to all who are able in however small a way, to assist the labors of the American Red Cross to send contributions at once to the Red Cross at Washington or to the local treasurers of the society. We should make this a common cause. The needs of these upon whom this sudden and overwhelming disaster has come should quicken every one capable of sympathy and compassion to give immediate aid to those who are laboring towards their relief.

"Woodrow Wilson."

The president also sent the following telegram to both Gov. Randall at Indianapolis and Gov. Cox at Columbus, O.

"I deeply sympathize with the people of your state in the terrible disaster that has come upon them. Can

the federal government assist in any way?"

THE EATON POISON CASE

PLYMOUTH, March 26.—Dr. Joseph Frame, who was the last man to talk with Rear Admiral Joseph Eaton before the latter died of poisoning, was heard today by the grand jury which is considering the evidence upon which the widow was charged with murder.

Much importance is attached to the testimony of the family physician. He was called to the Eaton home to attend Mrs. Eaton's mother, Mrs. Geo. Harrison, on March 7, and while there learned of the admiral's illness and prescribed for him. The admiral died early the next day and when the fact was made known to Dr. Frame he took steps that prevented the immediate unburial of the body. What passed between the physician and the dying patient has been closely guarded, but in view of the fact that the authorities have not been able to trace to any one the purchase of the arsenic found in the admiral's stomach, it is generally believed that the state has other evidence furnished by Dr. Frame.

WANTS MORE HYDRANTS

Com. Barrett Says That 250 Are Needed

At a recent meeting of the municipal council Mr. Barrett said that he wanted to install about 75 new fire hydrants in the city this year. We need over 200 new hydrants, said the commissioner today, but our finances do not warrant the putting in of so many at one time. We ought to install at least 75 new hydrants this year.

Mr. Barrett, speaking of hose, said: "I have a hose that can be purchased for none too good. Poor and cheap hose is a detriment to any fire department. Using the very best hose in the market, the hose with the smoothest inside finish, there is 14 pounds of pressure lost by friction in every 100 feet. With a poor hose the loss of pressure often runs as high as 24 and 25 pounds to 100 feet of hose, so that a 25-pound pressure at the end of 100 feet of poor hose would be lost. It would not show any pressure at all."

End Liver Trouble Without Calomel

Untrustworthy Drug, Thought to Loosen the Teeth, Now Made Absolutely Unnecessary

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are the mildest but surest laxative known, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. Dr. Edwards has been calomel's uncompromising foe. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-oil-colored tablets, a rare combination of vegetable compounds mixed with olive oil. These pleasant, harmless little tablets do all the good that calomel does but have no bad after-effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel at all, but to let Olive Tablets, take their place.

Most headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Olive Tablets when you feel "lumpy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" the clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits.

At 10c and 25c a box. "Every little Olive Tablet has a movement all its own."

ANNUAL BALL A GREAT SUCCESS FLOOD BULLETINS

MAJOR MARY SHERBURNE

MAJOR KATHERINE McMANMON

Officers of the Girls' Battalions of High School Entertained in Associate Hall

Associate hall was the scene last night of the 18th annual ball of the officers of the girls' battalions of the high school, and proved, as is always the case, to be one of the season's social features.

The hall was decked out as it has seldom been before and the lighting effect was particularly striking. The lights in the balconies were dimmed while the effect that the large center lights from the floor gave out was very soft and of a greenish tint. This was due largely to the Nile green trimmings with which the hall as well as the lights were draped.

The highly polished dancing surface,

the swish of evening gowned ladies and gentlemen, the rhythmic music and the background of potted ferns and palms all lent to the affair an unusually brilliant setting. From the opening strain of the grand march until the last bar of the final waltz had been played there was not a dull moment for any of those who attended the party. With the galleries filled with admiring friends of the officers who conducted the ball each dance in itself attained the prominence of a grand march.

Although the program announced 8 o'clock as the time when the grand march would start the dancing festivities it was not until 8.30 that Miss Mary A. Sherburne entered the hall accompanied by Mr. Charles Whidden. Under the patronage of Miss Joyce, the teacher of the girls in their calisthenics, several very graceful figures were executed by the line of officers and others who took part in the march before the concert by Hibbard's orchestra was given. There were some 50 couples who took part in the grand march.

The officers of the evening were: General manager, Major Mary Sherburne; assistant general manager, Major Katherine McManmon; floor director, Capt. Francis Leggett; assistant floor director, Capt. Laura Bellamy; chief aids, Capt. Mary Lawler, Capt. Alta Lewis, Miss Castains, Ella Barrie, Ruth George, Greta Cadby, Ellen Furber, Adeline Martin, Phil Olsen, Leif Olson, First Lieutenants, Lillian Cogger, Catharine Alwood, Florence Skannan, Marietta Cullen, Beatrice Jennison, May Mansfield, Esther Owens, Ruth Scott, Second Lieutenants, Ethel Barrie, Mildred Lewis, Agnes McHugh, Martina Phil (actress), Irene Shea, Grace Conway, Lena Smith, Ethel Lombard.

COLUMBUS, O., March 26.—Although first reports had put the loss of life at Dayton as high as 5000 refugees arriving in Xenia said it would be below 1000. The most serious news early today was that the town of Miamisburg with a population of 4000 had been washed away.

MIDDLETOWN, O., March 26.—After a night of still day broke with a cold, cloudy dawn and a hopeful feeling among the residents of the city. The river about 3 a. m. began to fall but the situation early today was still dangerous and unless prompt rescue work is done the toll of life may run into big figures.

DAYTON, O., March 26.—The unprecedented floods that have caused appalling loss of life and enormous property damage through Ohio and Indiana, followed the wake of the destructive tornado that killed hundreds, wrecked buildings and caused levees, dams and reservoirs to break in that section of the country.

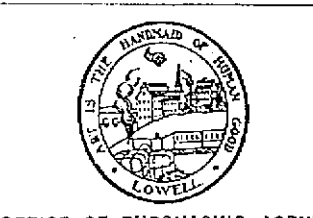

WASHINGTON, March 26.—Upon the rainfall of the next 24 hours depends whether the flood situation would be relieved or grow worse. Over crippled wires fragmentary reports creeping into weather bureau headquarters here today told of excessive rains all over the stricken districts threatening to carry the surging waters higher or maintain them at present stages.

DAYTON, O., March 26.—The crest of the Dayton flood passed about midnight but the next few hours saw no appreciable lowering in the water. Morning brought little hope of immediate relief to those who had spent the night in horror and it is feared that the number of drowned had been greatly increased during the 12 hours of darkness.

WOLF CREEK, O., March 26.—Two miles west of Dayton, O.—One thousand persons lost their lives in the Dayton flood, according to a report received by the Western Union Telegraph Co., which has established a sending station here.

In regard to skin diseases, medical authorities are now agreed on this:

Don't implore the disease germs in your skin by the use of greasy salves, and thus encourage them to multiply. A true cure of all eczematous diseases can be brought about only by using the healing agents in the form of a liquid.

MATRIMONIAL

A very pretty wedding took place this morning at St. John's church, North Chelmsford, when Mr. Philippe Sapoleon Gaudet and Miss Grace Trudeau were united in the bonds of matrimony. The ceremony was performed at a nuptial mass celebrated at 8 o'clock by the pastor, Rev. Edmund Schindler. The bride was attended by her father, Mr. Louis Trudeau, while the bridegroom was led to the altar by his father, Mr. Joseph Gaudet. After the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the home of the bride's parents in the village, where a dainty

Have You Made This Mistake?

MANY PEOPLE FORGET VAR-NE-SIS IS A STOMACH REMEDY FIRST, LAST AND ALWAYS

Don't make the mistake of thinking that Varne-sis is only a rheumatic remedy, because it has produced so many astonishing cures of that disease. Remember that Var-ne-sis is different from most medicines—it gets the stomach in good condition first, stops fermentation and sourness, bloating and distress, assists the liver, helps the kidneys throw off the poisons and in that way puts the blood in good condition. You know when you get the stomach and other digestive organs in good condition disease cannot exist, if the blood is freed from poisons.

Don't wait another minute. Get Varne-sis before you go home and watch what a difference it will make in a few days; it'll surprise you. Lowell headquarters at Dews drug store, Merrimack and Central streets.

PRESENTED GOLD HEADED CANE

Rev. D. N. Forget, O. M. I.,
Honored by C. M. A. C.

Members

Despite the inclement weather, the C. M. A. C. hall in Wyckoff street was last night the scene of one of the largest gatherings of members of this popular organization for years, the occasion being a reception to one of the corner clergies, Rev. D. N. Forget, O. M. I., who was also at the time pastor of St. Joseph's parish. Fr. Forget is now a missionary stationed at Cap de la Madeleine, Que., and has just completed preaching a two weeks' mission at Notre Dame de Lourdes church in Branch street.

The members of the C. M. A. C. who always had great love for the venerable clergyman took occasion of renewing acquaintances with him and also to show him they have not as yet forgotten one who for years was their spiritual director, and accordingly they invited him to attend their meeting of last night, at the close of which they presented him a handsome gold headed cane.

The clergyman, accompanied by the pastor of Notre Dame de Lourdes church, Rev. Leon Lamotte, O. M. I., arrived at the hall in the early part of the evening and was immediately escorted to the reception hall, where he was greeted by hundreds of members of the association, who gave him the glad hand-shake. Among those who were members of the club 17 years ago, very few were not recognized by the visitor, who expressed great satisfaction for being once more with the "boys." After each individual had been presented to the guest of the evening, all repaired to the assembly hall, where an entertainment program was provided for. Interesting musical numbers were gone through and finally, the presiding officer, Henri Achin, Jr., presented the Oblate father, a handsome gold headed cane as a token of remembrance of the high esteem and affection in which he is held by the C. M. A. C. members.

Although taken wholly unaware, Fr. Forget, who is an eloquent speaker, responded in a very fitting manner and told how he constantly had kept in mind remembrance his former parishioners of this city, especially the members of the C. M. A. C. He assured his listeners that although being miles away from them his heart and mind were always with them. He congratulated the association over its progress for the last 17 years and closed by wishing the association and its members long life and prosperity.

There were also speeches by Rev. Leon Lamotte, O. M. I., Rev. Gailbume Ouellette, O. M. I., chaplain of the association, who recalled the time when Fr. Forget was chaplain of the organization, and he (Fr. Ouellette) was one of its members. He also noted the progress of the society since that time and addressed flattering remarks to the officers of the society, Emory Cognac, Joseph Provost, Henri Barry, Henri Dalgle, Thomas J. Goyette and others also addressed the gathering.

A letter of regret from Elvaz H. Choquette, a former resident of this city and member of the association, and now one of the prominent business men of New Bedford, and president of the board of trade of the latter place, was read and received with applause.

A handsome bouquet, donated by Mr. Charles Knapp and family, was presented Fr. Forget by Thomas J. Goyette, who in appropriate words expressed the feelings of the Knapp family, who have always been close friends to the missionary and said the flowers were accompanied with the best wishes of the donors.

The reverend gentleman accepted the gift with many thanks to Mr. Knapp and family to whom he always expressed much love and respect. He also expressed his desire to again meet his friends before his leaving Lowell.

The committee in charge of the reception was composed of the following: Napoleon Lozeau, chairman; Joseph Payette, secretary; Eugene Savard, Joseph L. Lamoureux, Henri Barry and Arthur J. Lussier, ex-officio.

The reception committee was as follows: Thos. J. Goyette, William Drapeau, Edmond Gill, Edmond Trepantier, Joseph Choquette, Emory Cognac, Dr. J. E. Lamoureux, Joseph A. Legare, Albert Blazon, Dr. G. O. Lavallee, H. V. Charbonneau, Dr. D. S. Bellefleur, Henri Dalgle, Adolphe Brassard, Victor Salois, Henri Achin, Jr., Henri Achin, Jr., Dr. Geo. P. Gaisse, Horace Desilets, Albert Bergeron, Homer L. P. Turcotte, Xavier Delisle, Joseph Richard, Elvaz H. Choquette, Amadee Archambault, Joseph Alb and Napoleon Bibeau, George Dion, Emory Lanoue, Thos. He left home at 7 o'clock that morning, telling his mother that he was going to work. He was seen at 4 o'clock that afternoon at the office of the company by his brother, Herbert A., and the latter was told that he would be home soon. MANCHESTER, N. It was Baldwin's bout from start to finish, the much-heralded cleverness of Kennedy palling to a shadow before the superior ring generalship and aggressiveness of the stocky Boston boy.

MURDERED IN HIS BED

Raphael Ligoris Killed
After Struggle

WORCESTER, March 26.—Raphael Ligoris, an Albanian workman employed nights in the south works of the American Steel and Wire company, was murdered in his bed at his home, 122 Southbridge street, yesterday afternoon. Six stab wounds about the head, breast and neck, one of which severed the left jugular, caused death.

Blood spattered walls told the story of a struggle, as if the victim awoke after the first blow. As he fought his murderer, Ligoris had grasped the knife which was being used against him. His right hand was horribly cut. The second finger was severed and the little finger was hanging by a shred and the palm was cut from side to side.

The body was discovered by Nicholas Janacchi, Ligoris' roommate, just after 5 p. m., but rigor-mortis was already far advanced, and it was evident the man had been dead several hours. He was last seen alive at 12:30 p. m., when he was found asleep.

After the murder the assassin ransacked the flat in which Ligoris lived with others of his race, but so far as had been determined last night nothing was taken. That robbery was not the motive is the belief of the police, and every effort is being made to locate a man with whom Ligoris is said to have had trouble about a month ago.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

Opera House

Despite the bad weather a good-sized audience was present at the Opera House last night and enjoyed the splendid presentation of Mrs. Leslie Carter's famous play, "Zaza," as presented by the Loneran Players.

In the short while that Miss Irene Timmons has been in Lowell she has made many friends among local theatre-goers and her performance of the title role this week stamps her as one of the cleverest leading ladies ever seen in this vicinity. A feature of the performances this week, particularly to the feminine attendees at the theatre, is the beautiful gowns worn by Miss Timmons. William Grew is doing some of the best work this week that he has done since his first appearance here, notwithstanding that his performances have been of a high order.

One of the most popular members of the Loneran Players is Mr. Robert Allen, who is making a decided hit in the role of Casart, this week.

THE COUNTRY BOY

Every mother with a growing boy should send him to see "The Country Boy," the comedy by Edgar Selwyn, which Henry B. Harris will present at the Opera House April 15. The reason for this lies in the fact that Mr. Harris is a teacher in his own school, and through great amount of laughter it provokes that self-reliance is a necessary adjunct to the success of life. It shows that opportunity lies no less in the small town, and to a great degree more surely in the small community than in the big city, where the competition is so keen that only the very strongest survive its grinding tests.

Success is the word which must be applied to the talking moving pictures at the Merrimack Square theatre this week. The picture, "The Country Boy," an all-star vaudeville program which is interesting from start to finish. The talking pictures have given entire satisfaction to every one. "Couldn't possibly be better," is the verdict of all patrons.

Among the vaudeville offerings are Madison and Goldie, the harpist and the singer; Grace Young and players, in "The One Woman" Girls and Company, the cycling wonders; Ethel Munroe, society entertainer, and Veollette and Old in the mystic novelty, "Isis." The photo-plays as usual hold many new and interesting features. Performances are continuous—no advance in prices. Next week The Temple Players, the talking pictures and other features.

The Playhouse

Of the many things of merit in this week's presentation of Chauncey O'cott's drama, "The Minstrel of Clare," by the Drama Players at the Playhouse, none is deserving of special recognition more than Mr. J. Anthony Smythe in the character of "Larry O'Leary," the minstrel of Clare. As the young Irish lad who is ever on the alert to help others, and who finds time to fall deeply in love with one "Katie Cragan," whom he finally wins, Mr. Smythe is especially pleasing. His singing is a pleasant surprise to his most ardent admirers, Miss Mary, Mrs. Tittle, and the others of the cast are most acceptable. Mr. Weston has staged the piece very cleverly. Performances afternoon and evening during the remainder of the week. Order your tickets in advance. Telephone 311.

B. F. Keith's Theatre

Many persons, who are in close touch with mechanical inventions, call the Thomas A. Edison Talking Motion pictures, now being shown at the Keith theatre, the eighth wonder of the world. Without attempting to place just what wonder they constitute, it will readily be admitted that they are really wonderful. Such synchronism of sound and movement has never before been attained. The two Edison inventions, the motion pictures and the phonograph, are linked together in his latest creation, "Train 45," a sterling melodramatic feature, appears on the bill, and the dancing ensembles of the three Stewart Sisters and their very class escorts will make a very strong appeal to those who love grace and color. John Geiger, the man who makes the violin talk, makes himself a solid favorite from the start, and Joe Schreiner & Doll Richards in bits of nonsense know what audiences like. The De Voe trio of Roman ring artists and the Singing of Pearl Dawson, pretty ingenue, make good features. "The Burglars' Union," the act of Thompson, Williams and Copeland is a sidesplitter all the way through. Good seats may be obtained in advance for all performances. The box office telephone number is 23.

Hoffmann Quartet Coming

Few people understand the tremendous task that public performers, especially such as the Hoffmann quartet has to contend with. In the first place they have so established their reputation before critics of all kinds

that to fall from the standard that has been accredited them would be a severe blow. The Hoffmann quartet is an exception inasmuch as both the press and public demand such severe tests upon such performers that few can survive. The honorable position of musical critic of different daily papers and magazines demands of them not alone a thorough knowledge of music, but a proper and intelligent analysis of such works that are performed; thereby giving the public a true and honest description of such that will merit its reward and justify their position.

In the Hoffmann quartet such criticism as will be found below is not to delude the public but to show what they are: Viz: "In securing this famous quartet the Knights of Columbus have gone to quite an expense, but feel that the public of Lowell appreciating such form of music will flock to hear them, knowing the great amount of good that can be derived. In the selection of prices, they are within the reach of everyone. Those wishing reserved seats in advance will do well by leaving their names with the secretary of the Knights of Columbus and same will be secured three days in advance at Hall & Lyon's.

At Harmony Hall

On Thursday evening one of the most promising events ever given at Harmony hall will take place. The older men have arranged for an old time party. Mr. Peter Cavanaugh, the oldest citizen of Lowell and for 52 years a resident of Collinsville, has been chosen honorary president. General manager John J. Kierman; assistant, James Costello; floor marshal, Patrick Meade; assistant, John McShea.

A SPRING CLEAN UP

The high winds of the past few days, whether resulting from the natural impetuosity of March or out of sympathy with the terrible tornadoes of the west, have demonstrated very forcibly the great need for a general clean up in the streets of the city at the present time. Pedestrians who have gone through the principal thoroughfares have had it unpleasantly brought to their attention that not only is there an unusual accumulation of dirt on the streets but that they are littered with papers, packing case filling, and all kinds of unsightly rubbish. Were this refuse scattered along the gutters or in the side alleys it might escape ready detection and attention, but the recent swirling winds sought it out and blew it hither and thither until it street corners and squares, even in the very heart of the city, the air was filled with a swirling mass of refuse which, when the wind died down, lay over sidewalks and streets in such quantities as to cause a feeling of shame that our people have not the public spirit necessary to make such a condition impossible.

The rain of last night came as a welcome relief to lay the dust on the streets.

The spring cleaning which is so generally applied in the homes of the city during this season should be applied thoroughly to the streets, and the authorities should see to it that the citizens do their part in bringing about more desirable conditions. To be effective, this campaign of cleanliness must not be merely superficial. Not only the main avenues of business and pleasure should be considered but also the less important streets, the back alleys, the courts, and all those nooks where refuse is liable to be littered in an unsightly and unsanitary mass. In many cases people neglect cleanliness around their homes because of lack of education or instruction in the danger of such conditions, but often a word from one in authority would do much towards establishing better conditions. If the municipal council, board of health and police department would co-operate in a spring cleaning campaign, we would not hear so many unfavorable criticisms from strangers or from our own citizens who have visited neighboring cities and who quote the examples of Worcester, Springfield, and other Massachusetts cities to our disadvantage, and to our discredit.

Although they must deplore the tendency of the people of the city to throw papers, etc., on the sidewalks and streets, in the down town section, criticism of their action is modified by the realization that the city has not provided sufficient receptacles for the purpose. There are a very few of such but they are placed at long intervals and, therefore, are of little use in preventing the nuisance, as people cannot be expected to keep wrapping paper or other rubbish which they wish to discard while they walk a long distance. Small receptacles of suitable design which would detract in no way from the beauty of the streets, could be provided, of sufficient number and at such regular intervals that people would be reminded in passing of the great necessity for considering the neatness and cleanliness of the city as well as the greater comfort of its residents. Until this is done it will be difficult to remedy the present disagreeable conditions but if these were provided the public could have no excuse for continuing the practice which brands us as lacking in the civic pride that is such a large factor in metropolitan cities.

CHANGE OF SENTIMENT

A great change is already apparent in the sentiment of the public towards the Boston & Maine and New Haven railroads. This has been brought about by the discovery that the crusade against the roads was based largely on false charges and conducted by politicians and others for selfish motives. The result has been a great decrease in the value of the stock of both roads which brought home to the fact that unmitigated adverse criticism had done a great injury to the credit of the roads without justifying itself by any apparent benefit to the people. It was always said by the railroad management and their supporters that most of the agitators who had inaugurated campaigns against the two railroads were actuated by personal motives or selfish interests and the sudden decline in stocks has given weight to this view for on other second thought it has been seen that most of the agitators are men who have no financial interest in the railroads or in New England industries. If any good has been done by the policy of the past it has been in the drawing together of the railroad heads and the public for the former have realized that to retain public confidence great frankness is necessary on their part and we find President Mellen, his directors, and executive assistants, inviting public discussion and publishing his future plans in a degree heretofore unknown.

A notable example of this was the recent conference between the directors of the Boston chamber of commerce and the directors of the New Haven railroad, at which President Mellen, from ten o'clock in the forenoon until six o'clock in the evening, answered questions and discussed future plans bearing on every phase of the railroad situation and its future development. Although Louis D. Brandeis, one of the most persistent accusers of President Mellen and his policies, had often stated that the president is not familiar with conditions on the Boston & Maine, Mr. Mellen did not falter for a moment in answering questions regarding that railroad, its condition and equipment, service, financing, or any other question however intimate or minute regarding it. He showed himself thoroughly familiar with the grades, cuts and other matters of engineering, on the branches as well as the main line. He also discussed old contracts and leases, some of which dated back over twenty years, and through it all he spoke without hesitation or reserve. Although this in itself does not prove that he is right in every point yet it demonstrates that some of the criticism was unjust and prompted by ignorance or malice rather than by fairness of judgment.

Although the result of the Boston chamber of commerce conference may ultimately be far-reaching the hearing has already had one positive result, that of changing the attitude of that body towards our local railroads and their management. Hereafter their spirit will be one of helpful co-operation instead of open opposition or criticism. What is true of the Boston chamber of commerce is also true in a great measure of general business enterprises in New England. Although late the realization has come that public criticism has done much injury in this case and that, unless our business outlook is to suffer, a better feeling must ultimately prevail in the attitude of the people of New England towards our railroads. The railroads, as President Mellen says, are part and parcel of our New England industries so that what injures them injures New England and vice versa.

CONTROL OF TUBERCULOSIS

On the recommendation of a joint board consisting of the state board of health and the board of trustees of the hospital for consumptives, appointed by last year's legislature to frame a suitable policy for the future treatment of tuberculosis in Massachusetts, a bill is to be presented to the legislature in the near future. A hearing on it will be held at the state house on March 27th, and in order to sound public opinion the committee has sent a communication to the Lowell municipal council among others making known the provisions of the bill and requesting their opinion as to its merits. Although the bill aims to remedy the existing laws more binding and of more general service, rather than to institute a new departure in state policy, it is evident that the framers of the regulations desire the state to have absolute control in the care and segregation of those affected by the disease. If it becomes law the state board of health will have direct jurisdiction over all tuberculosis hospitals, and lest there should be any failure in the application of the law section 3 provides that:

"The state board of health shall, in all matters pertaining to tuberculosis, supervise and, whenever in its judgment advisable, direct the work of the local boards of health or health officials of every city and town. Local boards of health shall make such reports to the state board of health concerning matters relating to the local tuberculosis situation at such times and in such manner as said state board may require."

This bill also aims to govern the treatment of tuberculosis in private hospitals, schools, dispensaries, etc., as outlined in section 4 thus:

"Section 4. The state board of health will be empowered to investigate tuberculosis as related to public and private schools, private dispensaries, private hospitals and other private organizations dealing with tuberculosis and shall require an annual report in such form as it may require from such public and private schools, private hospitals and other private organizations concerning their activities in relation to tuberculosis."

This vigilant activity must be also exercised in the case of individuals, for the provision will oblige the state board of health and industry to report all cases of tuberculosis which will come to its notice, to the state board of health, and furnish such information from time to time as the state board shall require. One of the most advanced ideas advocated by the bill is the proposed measures to prevent tuberculosis in the young who may be physically predisposed to the disease. This is section 7, which announces:

The state board of health shall have the power to recommend to city and town authorities, in suitable instances, the establishment of open air schools or fresh air rooms for children afflicted with tuberculosis or who by reason of anemia, underweight or other conditions may be predisposed to tuberculosis."

After reading the stringent regulations which the state may find it necessary to employ, the gravity of the present situation is borne home strongly to the mind, and one hopes for the day when Dr. Friedmann or some other scientific investigator will announce a definite cure to the thousands who now suffer in the grip of the dread disease. Until then such laws as that now proposed are very necessary and must be adopted if the plague is to be effectively combated.

THE TORNADO

When we grapple at the extremes of hot and cold weather experienced in New England, and complain of sudden climatic changes, it might be well to compare our lot with that of those who dwell in the regions of the west or middle west where the wild tornado makes periodical visits, destroying property, devastating towns and villages, crushing out hundreds of human lives, and rendering thousands homeless. Such was the storm that swept over Omaha and the surrounding country on Sunday, turning the joyous Easter into a time of mourning. Although tornadoes have visited this section of the country in the past they are of rare occurrence here and not to be expected in the natural order of things as they are in the stricken region where Sunday's storm is only a repetition of many such former visitations.

FOREIGN EMBASSIES

The difficulty which President Wilson is experiencing in finding suitable ambassadors to foreign courts points out more strongly than ever the great need for American owned embassies and legations in foreign countries which would serve the double purpose of surrounding the position with great dignity and removing a great portion of the necessarily heavy expense which has heretofore burdened our foreign representatives. If congress would appropriate money for the purpose it would not be so difficult in future to secure men who are richer in character and ability than in worldly possessions.

Seen and Heard

Mayor Gaynor, discussing at a Friday dinner party the efficacy of prayer, said: "There are some people who are too impatient and cynical over the matter of prayer. They are like little Tommy, Jim and Harry? Well, pa, Jim and Harry say their prayers every night and ask God to make 'em good boys."

"How nice," said the father. "How very nice."

"But he ain't done it yet, pa," the wretch added.

A group of brokers were talking about the late James H. Keene. "Keene," said one, "had a cynical humor. He was also mistrustful—especially mistrustful of his associates in pools."

"Keene once pointed out to me an action on the part of a pool associate that he deemed suspicious. I said there was nothing suspicious about it. But Keene laughed and said: 'I bet you'll tell me the kind of man I am in these pool deals. I'm the kind of man who when he finds a spoon in the hall after he has given a dinner party, says: 'Ah, one of my guests had a hole in his pocket.'"

During the war in the Philippines General Charles King, one day while replying to a letter from home, which was made especially brilliant by several rows of new brass buttons called upon a raw recruit. The latter was on post duty and saluted the general.

"Are you on duty?" asked King, with a show of anger.

"I guess so," said the recruit. "They sent me out here, anyway."

"Well," said the general, "don't you know that you are supposed to salute your officers?" Don't you know I am the general of this brigade?"

"You are the general?" said the raw recruit. "Gosh, no; I don't know it. I thought you was the chief of the fire department."

American Museum of natural history, says the New York Sun. From Alfred J. Kline the museum has received specimens of the giant forest tree introduced to the scientific world. "For something like 15 years," says Dr. Lucas, "it was suspected that the giant forest tree of Central Africa, harbored by some members of the bog family, but owing to the reticent habits of the animal it was not until 1904 that a specimen fell into the hands of a naturalist and the animal was properly introduced to the scientific world. "Very little is known of this new acquisition at the museum, partly on account of the habits of the animal, which are nocturnal, and its abode in the tall grass of the jungle. IF CONSTIPATED OR BILIOUS—"CASCARETS."

HEADACHE, SOUR STOMACH, BILIOUSNESS AND BAD TASTE GONE BY MORNING

Unrested tongue, bad taste, indigestion, swollen skin and miserable headache—these are the signs of a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which sours and ferments like garbage in a small barrel. That's the first step to a general misery—indigestion. Soak your face and throat with yellow skin medicine, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret tonight will give your constipated bowels a thorough cleansing and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then to keep their stomach, liver and bowels regulated, and never know a miserable moment. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.

It is quite probable that other curious specimens remain to be discovered," says Dr. Lucas, "although with the rapid opening up of the country and its exploration by specimens it would seem that its possibilities must be long exhausted."

LEGEND OF THE LILY (T. A. Davis)

Here is a legend of long ago, breathing a tale of the risen Christ; told when the lilies of Easter blow. Touch to life in the morning mist, by a magic kiss from the dewy mouth of the spirit hid in the wind from the south.

Easter eve and the wind was high, No hint of spring in the woodlands. And trooping into the western sky, grey clouds, grim pillars of upper air. In the night were lost, when the hermit slept, In his rough bark, knocked at the abbey door.

The porter opened to him who stood, Trembling with cold in the wintry blast. And he begged him to eat of their newly-baked bread. For it was not written the weak should fast.

"Nay, nay," said the hermit, "I touch not meat. Till my sins be shaken at Jesus' feet. For yesternight I kept my watch, And my sins stood, mocking, about my head. There came a knocking upon the door. And a mystic voice in the darkness said: 'Go thou to the Abbey of Bethlehem, Availing a sign in the Easter morn!'

"Here I am come, and the duty mine. Earthly pleasures and joys to forsake. So I pray thee lead to the chapel shrine. For I need no comfort save that of prayer."

And so to the dim of the altar light He led the hermit and bade "good-night." When the wind of dawn shook the dappled East, And the gates were opened to the Day of Days, They that followed the white-haired priest To the main service of prayer and praise. Found the hermit prone at the altar, dead. Pale in the light that the tapers shed.

On a graven cross on the granite floor, Over the tomb of a saint he lay, With arms outstretched as the Christ of yore. Thus on the cross of Calvary: And out of those lips, made sweet by prayer, Cried a wondrous flower, divinely fair.

This is the legend of long ago, Breathing the love of the risen Christ; Mysterical of the buds that blow At the holy season of Easter, kist. To life anew at the dewy mouth Of the spirit hid in the wind from the south.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Mothers
New Bedford Standard: "The real cause of vice is lack of proper teaching by American mothers. Motherhood is the most important factor in the life of a child. These are the words of a professional worker among unfortunate girls and women. Partly true, no doubt. And yet, praise be, there are thousands of good mothers who are mothering their children at a low level. Fortunately the girl who has one of them."

Can't Afford It
Burlington Free Press: William P. McCune cannot afford to be an ambassador to France. What is more, he admits it. Mrs. Marshall whose husband happens to be vice president, cannot afford to keep a social secretary. She is not going to have one, and is frank to say why. Here is the difference. One cannot afford to take office and keep up the customary amount of show, and so refuses to make a social secretary. The other, the husband of the other, is also unable to afford the usual gewgaws and yet takes the office with the declared intent of cutting down the expenses. Both are admirably frank, but we like Mrs. Marshall's way best.

Our Moral Influence
Springfield Republican: The making of bankers' loans to shaky foreign governments for political purposes is easier to do far than the country is concerned and it is to be hoped there will never be a resort to them in the future. Such negotiations are subject to grave abuses. In the case of China, American prestige should be maintained successfully by other channels. Our withdrawal from the six-power syndicate, in fact, may increase our moral influence at Peking quite as much as did the reputation of the extortionate Boxers' indemnity. The problem of the more or less bankrupt Latin-American states, with their troublesome foreign debts, the Wilton administration doubtless will try to work out in some other way.

Thaw's Liberty
North Adams Transcript: A New York assemblyman in speaking of the Thaw case has open the house the other day said: "It is now become a case of the state's money against the Thaw money." That is reducing it to a pretty low plane, but if such is the situation the state ought to be able to secure justice as much as the Thaw family, and give the young man and his family to understand that they cannot buy his way out of the asylum.

A Succubus
Beverly Times: The women say they can't keep their hats on without haphes. Their mothers kept them on with ribbons tied under the chin, and they never scratched any eyes out, either.

Very Obliging
Brooklyn Times: The new postmaster-general's plans to give the democratic chance at the fourth-class election seem to be working right at the start. About 200 republican officials have resigned, upon learning of the proposed competitive campaign, and thousands more are likely to follow the same course. It may not be necessary for Mr. Burleson to issue his postmaster order, after all.

Republican Attitude
New Bedford Times: The present attitude of the republicans in the national campaign is not to attempt to obstruct tariff legislation in the extra session of congress, if adhered to, will redound to the credit of the republicans. It shows that they have been impressed by the nation's persistent demands for more than two years that some measure of relief be taken through tariff revision.

Good Citizens vs. Bad
John Newell: If the citizens are inclined to shirk responsibility, and to pass their shoulders under their duties, they will get about such a government as they desire. They are to blame for what comes. An alert

The Fight Grows Harder and More Bitter. A Great Chance for the Public to Buy at Cut Prices

A piano sale here is always a sacrifice, always a bargain sale, always a markdown sale. The very nature of the business here is one of sacrifice. The business here is not conducted like the business of a regular piano store where they are expected to make a profit on each piano. We don't let any piano float around our floors; a sacrifice tag is slapped on which on the face of it reads competition, and it is added to the first who man or woman for the price marked on the tag. Price doesn't mean anything at these sales. We cut and double cut prices on all makes alike; we ask no favors, we want none, and we give none. The man who likes these someone's loss is your gain, the profit is all yours. The music instruments of the world's best makers are in the sacrifice list.

REPAIRING OF ANDOVER STREET

County Will Not Share Expense Within City Limits—The City Must Foot Bills

City Engineer Kearney has taken up the matter of repairing a portion of Andover street within the city limits with the Middlesex county commission, and has learned that while the county commission will not share the expense of a county road within the city limits, Andover street is a county road, the city has the right to go the repairing and the fact that the county commission has jurisdiction over Andover street does not benefit the city of Lowell. If the city should decide that it would be necessary to widen or alter Andover street it would be necessary, Mr. Kearney says, to give the county commissioners thirty days' notice and they would have the authority to say "yes" or "no" to the proposition.

PLEASANT HOUR CLUB

Held Its Third Annual Concert and Ball

LINCOLN HALL SCENE OF SELECT GATHERING

Decorations Were Beautiful—Many Out-of-Town Guests Present—Fine Concert by Orchestra

The third annual concert and ball of the Pleasant Hour Club was held last night in Lincoln hall and proved very successful, although the bad weather interfered some with the plans of the organizers. The affair was select and was one of the prettiest events of the season.

The hall was artistically decorated, the predominant colors being pink, white and purple. In the centre of the hall hung a large bell surrounded by long streamers, and over the stage hung a large sign bearing the inscription, "Pleasant Hour Club," and surrounded with electric bulbs of various colors. The stage was decked with potted plants and flowers and presented a very pretty sight. The light effect was very pleasing and the handsome gowns worn by members of the fair sex, as well as the full evening dress of the gentlemen guests added materially to the beauty of the spectacle.

The members of Miner's full orchestra seated on the stage amid numerous flowers and potted plants, gave a half-hour concert which was very pleasing, the numbers being as follows:

March, Stars and Stripes Forever Souza
Overture, Light Cavalry... Von Suppe
Nyxophone quartet, Melody of Popular Songs, selected.
Messrs. Doyle, Sullivan, Widen and Gilmore
Saxophone duet, Southern Melodies Foster
Messrs. Widen and Miner

At 8.30 o'clock dancing was started and continued till a late hour, refreshments being served during the evening. The grand march which was a feature of the evening was held at 10 o'clock, and those taking part went through some well executed evolutions. The march was led by Hector Dupuis and Miss Grace Dupuis, and others.

FOR DANDRUFF, FALLING HAIR OR ITCHY SCALP—25 CENT "DANDERINE"

SAVE YOUR HAIR! DANDERINE DESTROYS DANDRUFF AND STOPS FALLING HAIR AT ONCE—GROWS HAIR, WE PROVE IT.

If you care for heavy hair, that glimmers with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is thick and lustrous you must use Danderine, because nothing else accomplishes so much for the hair. Just one application of Knowlton's Danderine will double the beauty of your hair. Besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its luster, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots fanish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy, or too oily, don't hesitate, but get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. If eventually—why not now? A 25 cent bottle will truly amaze you.

MR. AND MRS. HASSLER

Arrive in This City Touring State Capitals

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert G. Hassler arrived in this city this afternoon after walking from Boston. The couple are on their way to Concord, N. H., as it is their intention to visit every state capital in the United States. They claim a prize of $10,000 has been offered to them by the Majestic Athletic club of Jackson, Mass., providing they walk to every capital in the Union on the dirt road out for them. Mrs. Hassler states that she lives on raw meat while Mr. Hassler eats nothing but vegetables.

Several times throughout the year prize takers visit our city and claim to be going around the world on a wager or working for a prize and we are not sure whether Mr. and Mrs. Hassler do not belong to that class. They left New York on Feb. 28, one day after their marriage and claim to have visited Hartford, Conn., Providence, R. I., and Boston. They have a press agent going ahead of them which goes to prove that they are simply public. No prize is given without some proof that it is earned and there is nobody to tell in their case what they eat or whether they walk or ride.

The Misses Ducharme of Ennell Street Conducted a Very Successful Whist and Entertainment Last Night

One of the largest gatherings ever recorded at St. Louis' parochial school hall was seen last night, when the Misses Ducharme of Ennell street conducted a whist and entertainment for the benefit of the parish. Over 400 people were present and a very pleasant evening was spent despite the unfavorable weather.

Ten deals of whist were played under the direction of Mr. Philipp Chaput, who presided over the gathering and at the conclusion of the game over 75 rich prizes were awarded the winners. The distribution of the prizes was followed by a clever entertainment by the Jolly Five & Co., who presented a lively minstrel sketch entitled "In Camp." The members of the company were as follows: Frank Lecourt, Fred Harvey, Leo H. Beaulieu, Andrew Corcoran, Henri Beaulieu, Edgar Cote, Alfred Paquette, Edouard and charming little Miss Laura Beaulieu, Mrs. Henri Beaulieu accompanied on the piano.

Several fine piano duets were also given by the Misses Onida Lussier and Anna Pion, while Messrs. Philias Ducharme and A. Bergeron also contributed.

uted their share of the entertainment with recitations. The judges at whist were Misses Beatrice Chaput, Alice Jodoin and Robena E. Ducharme. The $2.50 gold coin which was drawn went to Mr. R. Gendreau, while the Misses Jeanette Trudel and Florence Rousseau won the prizes offered by Mr. Frank Ricard. The gold coin was donated by Rev. L. C. Gendreau. The affair was a fine success and the organizers are to be complimented.

Gains New Complexion By Peeling Her Skin

(Julia Off in The Queen)
"Keep still, sad heart and cease reminding behind the clouds in the sun-dust of the past." It was forcibly remembered of these lines when, after months of fretting over my ugly complexion,
I found how easy it was to remove the cloudy, muddy skin and bring forth a bright, new complexion. I got an ounce of ordinary mercurized wax at my druggist's and used this like cold cream every night for two weeks, washing it off mornings. Lo and behold! That old skin had all peeled off. The healthy, young skin beneath revelled in the light. The complexion renewed, I'm sure anyone whose skin is ruined, withered, blotchy, pimply or freckled, can acquire the lovely complexion, unobtainable by using this remarkable treatment.
Another treatment that brought more sunshine was one to remove wrinkles.
A face bath made by dissolving 1 oz.
powdered salicylic in 1-2 pint witch hazel, soon chased away every line. It's wonderful.
